

MRS. GOELET GETS FINAL DECREE FROM THE DIVORCE COURT

Former Miss Elsie Whelen, of This City, Gains Freedom on Same Day That Mrs. A. T. French Has Petition Granted.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 4.—Final decrees of divorce were granted yesterday to Mrs. Elsie Goelet, the wife of Robert Goelet, and to Mrs. Pauline Leroy French, the wife of Amos Tuck French, the attorney six months having elapsed since the divorce petitions were granted.

Mrs. Goelet sued for divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty and Mrs. French for failure to provide. Both cases were heard on depositions, which were read by the attorneys in almost inaudible tones.

At the time of the Goelet hearing nothing was said regarding the disposition of the children or the question of alimony, and it was presumed that those matters were satisfactorily settled out of court. Neither Mr. Goelet nor Mr. French contested the action, although they were represented in court by counsel.

In Mrs. Goelet's deposition it was said that her husband's attitude toward the servants in her presence was atrocious and she left their Newport home, taking the children with her, on January 2 last. Mrs. Goelet's New York home is at 477 Park avenue.

Mrs. Goelet was Miss Elsie Whelen, the daughter of the late Henry Whelen, of Philadelphia banker. Her mother is now the wife of C. Hartman Kuhn, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Goelet married Robert Goelet on June 19, 1901.

Mr. Goelet is the son of the late Gorden Goelet. His estate, consisting mostly of New York realty, is estimated at $300,000. He is a member of the following clubs: New York Yacht, University, Knickerbocker, Turf and Field, Piping Rock, Tuxedo, Metropolitan, St. George, Holland Society, Union, Automobile of America, Harvard and the Metropolitan of Washington.

Mrs. and Mr. French separated in August, 1911, soon after their daughter, Julia, eloped with "Jack" Geraghty, a Newport chauffeur. Mrs. French later found her daughter, but Mrs. Geraghty is believed to have remained in Newport. Mrs. French is a brother of Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt and of Lady Cheslemore, of England.

Mrs. French was Miss Pauline Leroy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Leroy. They have five children—Mrs. Samuel Wagner, Mrs. George French, Amos Tuck French, Jr., Edward Tuck French and Mrs. Geraghty. They were married December 2, 1884.

Both cases were heard in court last winter. The proceedings in the French case took less than five minutes, and consisted of the rapid and almost unintelligible reading of several depositions by counsel for Mrs. French. The proceedings in the Goelet case were fully as secretive.

It was reported that a request to have the case tried in chambers was denied. The first deposition was read during the noon recess, when only court officers and two sworn men were present. The others were read after adjournment, when the court was in session.

Counsel read in a low tone, and upon coming to names his voice dropped almost to a whisper.

POLICE ROUT FANS IN LINE FOR TICKETS

Continued from Page 1. allowed to form again this evening when the millinery store was closed.

When the hostilities between the police and the fans were brought to an end the manager of the hat store came out to thank the police for their assistance.

"I want to thank you, sergeant," he began. "You see, those bumps and baseball people were blocking my sidewalk. They were saying and doing things to the women customers would object to being mentioned."

"You told all that to central," said the sergeant, looking at him. "You did up his army and dispersed it in its various posts."

The manager then got a broom and swept the sidewalk. Joe Banks, a boy who was offered a reward by his father, a Camden insurance man, if he would purchase two stammers and attend to the crowd, showed some opposition to the police. He had held down the first place in line since yesterday morning.

In answer he stamped his 150 pounds of flesh upon one small foot until his cheeks shook like bows of jelly. Then a mist came into his eyes and he started to stammer and attend to the crowd, modified him by promising him a good place in the line when it re-formed.

Joe retreated in good order with his trunk, lunch basket, under one arm and his soap box under the other. It was the second battle of the morning that Joe was engaged in.

He became hungry as usual just after he had emptied his lunch basket. He got a sleepy looking man known as Mike to hold his box and position while he went to forage. When he returned Mike was asleep.

Joe tried to awaken him. The man pretended to snore. Joe in the month and Joe pulled the box from under him. Mike did not make good his threat. He went to sleep on the pavement until a policeman raised him with a club. A touch of the club of law and order is the magic wand that always brings Mike to life. He faded away in the early morning hours.

Tickets for the world's series will be placed on sale at the Ninth street entrance of Gimbel Brothers tomorrow morning at 3 o'clock. E. Church, assistant to Charles Gimbel, is in charge of the store arrangements. A partition will be erected so that the fans can pass the ticket windows in single file.

B. AND O. STATION ROUGHS DOWNED IN WILD FIGHT

Two Policemen Charge Seven and Capture Four Battle.

A battle between two policemen and a

"CONFIDENTIAL" PENROSE-LIQUOR LETTER

Pennsylvania Federation of Liquor Dealers

OFFICERS: Mrs. Bonner, President; F. J. O'Sullivan, In Vice President; A. T. French, 2nd Vice President; Secy: Daniel Taylor, Treasurer; George W. Ross, Organist. OFFICE OF PRESIDENT: NEIL BONNER, 22nd & CARPENTER STS. PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Philadelphia, Pa., September 10th, 1914.

My Dear Sir:

I am addressing you this letter trusting that you will consider it as strictly CONFIDENTIAL, and will immediately BECOME ACTIVE AMONG YOUR PATRONS, by requesting them to REGISTER THEIR NAME AS A VOTING CITIZEN NEXT TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16th. UNLESS THEY REGISTER THEY WILL BE UNABLE TO VOTE IN NOVEMBER.

You must fully realize that the coming election in November means more to every liquor dealer, regardless of the fact of his being a retailer, wholesaler or brewer, than it ever has in the history of Pennsylvania.

Our enemies are well organized, and are about to make a determined effort to elect members to the coming legislature who will support their bills in favor of local option, anti-treating, holiday closing and other measures, all or any of which, if passed, will practically mean the loss of hundreds of dollars monthly and yearly to every one of us. To some of our fellow dealers, it will mean that they will lose their license privilege, and in such instance, who knows where they will apply for a new license, PERHAPS ACROSS THE STREET FROM WHERE YOU ARE LOCATED NOW.

You cannot help reading the papers and realizing that there are but two candidates now for the office of Governor. IF VANCE McGOBRIK, THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE, WINS THE FIGHT, YOUR LICENSE WILL NOT BE IN FORCE MANY MORE YEARS.

WE MUST ALSO ASSIST IN THE RE-ELECTION OF SENATOR PENROSE.

For once in our business life, WE ARE FORCED TO DEFEND OUR HOMES AND BUSINESS. WILL YOU HELP US BY URGING YOUR PATRONS TO REGISTER.

WRITE OUT A NOTICE AND PLACE IT ON YOUR MIRRORS OR BACK OF YOUR BAR, CALLING THE ATTENTION OF EVERY CUSTOMER TO THE FACT THAT HE SHOULD REGISTER TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16th, WITHOUT FAIL.

You can do much to help us out of our trouble if you will do so.

KEEP THIS COMMUNICATION CONFIDENTIAL.

Fraternally yours,

NEIL BONNER.

HAS MAN SHE CALLS HUSBAND CAUGHT ON HIS WAY TO WED

Reynolds Spends Night in Cell, Instead of Speeding to Bride.

A prospective bridegroom, claimed by another woman as her common law husband, faced charges of assault and battery and non-support today in the office of Magistrate Morris, a few moments before the time set for his marriage in a town 20 miles away.

He is William E. Reynolds, Wallace street, east of 21st, and was to have been married at 11 o'clock this morning at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Stone Harbor, N. J., to Miss Ada Teare, a trained nurse and superintendent of a sanitarium in that town, had not Mrs. E. Goldie Reynolds, of 220 Jefferson street, intervened.

According to Mrs. Reynolds, Miss Teare turned her through a serious illness some time ago and at that time made the acquaintance of Reynolds. He was accused at Market Street Police yesterday afternoon while on the way to take a 10:10 train from Camden to Stone Harbor.

When Constable Cummins caught Reynolds he was both to turn back, claiming, however, that he had made frequent trips to his captive's real estate offices in the Real Estate Trust building, and had almost given up hope of finding his man, refused to let him go. He showed two warrants, Magistrate Morris held Reynolds in $200 bail on the assault and battery charge, and a further hearing today. As he could get no bail, he was taken to the police station house Reynolds for the night.

When Constable Cummins caught Reynolds he was both to turn back, claiming, however, that he had made frequent trips to his captive's real estate offices in the Real Estate Trust building, and had almost given up hope of finding his man, refused to let him go. He showed two warrants, Magistrate Morris held Reynolds in $200 bail on the assault and battery charge, and a further hearing today. As he could get no bail, he was taken to the police station house Reynolds for the night.

W. C. T. U. GAINS IN NUMBERS

Two Counties Treble and Three Double Their Membership.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—Because of the absence of M. Clyde Kelly, of Pittsburgh, at the Monday evening session of the 20th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State W. C. T. U., here, addresses were made by Mrs. Mary B. Wilson, national superintendent of work among the foreigners; the Rev. Mecca Marie Varney, of Piquette, Mich., and her husband, a prominent lecturer.

At the session this morning prizes were awarded to the following counties for having doubled their membership since the last convention: Carbon, Luzerne, Perry, Cameron and Franklin. For having trebled membership, prizes were given to Berks and Schuylkill counties for 1913. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. Ella M. George, Beaver Falls; vice president, Mrs. Adelle Holliday, Parkersburg, Pa.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sylvia B. Norris, Sayre; recording secretary, Miss Margaret F. Lewis, Evans City; treasurer, Mrs. Leah Cobb Martin, Piquette.

Tickets for the world's series will be placed on sale at the Ninth street entrance of Gimbel Brothers tomorrow morning at 3 o'clock. E. Church, assistant to Charles Gimbel, is in charge of the store arrangements. A partition will be erected so that the fans can pass the ticket windows in single file.

15,000 MADE HOMELESS

Immense Loss by Earthquake in Asia Minor—Sixty Persons Killed.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 6.—More than 15,000 persons were made homeless by the earthquake in the region of Koniah which occurred there on the 28th of September. Sixty persons lost their lives.

Slight tremors were felt for several days before the severest shock occurred and this gave the people a warning that saved many thousands from death. Those who perished were inhabitants who were sleeping in the open air until the shocks ceased.

SEVEN HELD FOR SWINDLES

Former Tammany Hall Politician Alleged to Be Among Them.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 6.—A man, alleged by the police to be Mickey Shnay, of New York, formerly prominent in Tammany Hall politics, is held here today with six companions on charges of working alleged wire-tapping swindles.

W. L. Hundell, of Birmingham, Mich., told the police that he lost $200 in a scheme promoted by the men. The authorities today charged that an attempt was made to obtain $20,000 from Thomas J. Kehoe in the same way.

8000 LIQUOR MEN RALLY TO PENROSE

Continued from Page 1.

er, regardless of the fact of his being a retailer, wholesaler or brewer, than it ever has in the history of Pennsylvania. "Our enemies are well organized, and are about to make a determined effort to elect members to the coming legislature who will support their bills in favor of local option, anti-treating, holiday closing and other measures, all or any of which, if passed, will practically mean the loss of hundreds of dollars monthly and yearly to every one of us."

LOCAL OPTION "WARNING"

Then followed a warning that a local option law might upset the present arrangement by causing keener competition among the liquor dealers in many districts.

"To some of our fellow dealers," the letter continued, "it will mean that they will lose their license privilege, and in such instance, who knows where they will apply for a new license, perhaps across the street from where you are located now."

Also in capital letters, a little further down, appeared this line: "We must also assist in the reelection of Senator Penrose."

The defeat of Penrose, the letter intimated, would mean the disruption of the homes as well as the business of the liquor traffickers.

"For once in our business life," the paragraph following the appeal to support Penrose read, "we are forced to defend our homes and business. Will you help us by urging your patrons to register?"

Former asked every liquor dealer to display cards calling upon the patrons of the saloons to register. Then followed this cryptic sentence: "You can do much to help us out of our trouble if you will do so."

While the liquor dealers come out boldly for Penrose in their letters of appeal, they do not mention Doctor Brumbaugh, who was working actively for Senator Penrose. As early as September 19, stated one member of the federation today, "the federation feared Doctor Brumbaugh. We are working quietly for Senator Penrose, but have not come out for Doctor Brumbaugh."

CORONER FREES TEAMSTER

George Montague, a Negro, of 1422 South Boyer street, a team driver, was held guiltless by the coroner's jury this morning of the death of 5-year-old Catherine De Broeder, who died on October 3 after being struck by Montague's team.

CZAR'S OFFENSIVE BLOCKED AUSTRIAN CONSUL DECLARES

Russians Driven From Hungary and Held at Bay in Galicia.

The Austro-Hungarian army has succeeded in blocking the Russian offensive movements in Galicia and northern Hungary, according to official news received at the Austro-Hungarian consulate in Philadelphia today from the Foreign Office in Vienna. It was said at the consulate this afternoon that the position now held by the army of Francis Joseph is that for which it has been striving since the outbreak of the war. The line of the Austro-Hungarian army now forms a crescent from Cracow to Uzesok Pass, in the Carpathian Mountains, southeast of Przemysl.

The official statement today is as follows: "The Russians have been compelled to withdraw before the offensive movements of our army, both in the north and in the east. A junction has been effected between our eastern and northern armies, our line extending from Cracow through Tarnow and Przemysl to the Uzesok Pass in the Carpathian Mountains. This strengthened position has enabled us to break the offensive of the enemy."

Hungary is now cleared of Russians. Most detachments which penetrated into Hungary through the mountains in the north have been driven back.

CHARLES S. WURTS LEFT ESTATE OF $595,723

Account Filed, Balance Ready for Distribution—Will of S. W. Paul.

The estate of Charles Stewart Wurtz, who died in September, 1907, amounted to $595,723, according to the account filed today with the Register of Wills for probit by the Orphans' Court. The executors are Charles S. Wurtz, Jr., Robert K. Wurtz and Thomas B. Turner.

Disbursements of the estate made, according to the account, amount to $8,418. The balance of $587,305 is ready for distribution in accordance with the provisions of the will.

The $150,000 estate of Samuel W. Paul, who died September 25, at 702 1/2 Third street, is bequeathed to the widow, Mrs. Ellen Paul, who is also named executrix. The will was admitted to probate today. The personal property of Morris S. Abramson has been appraised at $249,01.

EMMA WILLARD CENTENARY

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Beginning today a two days' observance of the centennial of Emma Willard will be held here at the Emma Willard School. Alumni from all parts of the country will take part in the exercises.

Features will be the presentation of a memorial tablet to Emma Willard, the school's founder, and Mrs. Russell Sage, the institution's benefactor, and an address by Mary Emma Wooley, president of Mt. Holyoke College.

DOCTOR BRUMBAUGH URGES STATE'S DUTY TO THE HELPLESS

Address to Association of Directors of Poor Filled With Spirit of Charity in Its True Sense.

CARLEISLE, Pa., Oct. 6.—Andrew S. Miller, president of the State Association of the Directors of the Poor and Charities and Corrections, in convention here, today introduced to the delegates Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, who arrived at 3 o'clock this morning by motor from Harrisburg.

Doctor Brumbaugh's address was made to a large audience and he was greeted with enthusiasm. He avoided political topics entirely and dealt exclusively with charitable problems, saying that he believed that a broader interpretation of the State's obligations would lead to the day when Pennsylvania will know no suffering. He prefaced his remarks by an appeal for the co-operation of charitable and religious forces, which union, he said, only could obtain the best results for social betterment.

Doctor Brumbaugh declared that the broad spirit of democracy and the fair interpretation of the motto, "each for all and all for each," made this nation present in its showing of results in charitable work.

PLEA FOR PRACTICAL CHARITY

He admonished the poor directors who were present not to concentrate their attention solely on ministering to those who come under their charge, but to consider it a duty to constitute themselves as local centers of investigation to inquire into and disseminate into being. He criticized the use of the expression "insane poor," which, he said, should be revised to read, "indigent insane," and suggested that, far as possible, those mentally unbalanced should be sent to institutions where they will receive the best of medical care and house, where one fully paid employe, with many burdens, probably has more than half a hundred of such cases under his charge.

The whole trend of Doctor Brumbaugh's discourse was a plea to the influences back of charity movements to set together and improve the conditions of our unfortunate where they now live, rather than remove them to institutions where they will be a public charge.

The gubernatorial candidate said that social progress could not be achieved in its highest sense until conditions relating to poverty and distress became both remedial and preventive. He urged those who enjoyed the hard winter was in all probability approaching and that in many parts of Pennsylvania dire suffering was in prospect.

RECEPTION AT COURTHOUSE

Before and after the speaker's address he held public receptions in front of and inside the courthouse, where he met many hundreds of citizens.

A large number of Dickinson College law and academic men turned out to hear the speaker, who was met by Mayor Selby, chairman of the committee on arrangements of the convention.

"If there is any business in need of co-operation and to work along with the grocers of America should get together for mutual protection through legislation and should apply themselves to a careful study of their problems not as individual units, but as an organization. We want you to go back to your respective communities and to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

OUTCOME OF EXAMINATIONS

Civil Service Commission Announces Averages of Applicants for Positions.

Applicants for city positions who passed the recent examination of the Civil Service Commission and the average of each are as follows: Operator, Roentgen-ray laboratory, Bureau of Charities, salary $1000 a year—Fred W. Swigert, 148 North 22d street, average 78.3; John J. McKenna, 203 South Seventeenth street, average 70.3.

Baker, Bureau of Charities, salary $621 a year—William E. Keck, 36 Hegar street, average 91.5; Samuel J. King, 595 Apple tree street, 90; Louis Gebhardt, 709 Rising sun avenue, 90; August Desch, 653 North 21st street, 88.5; Henry W. Flottman, 1003 Olive street, 87; John Saitz, 2123 Thompson street, 85.

NO FAMINE IN MACKEREL

Lovers of dried mackerel will be grateful to learn that their favorite dish should be plentiful and cheap the next few months. The Danish steamship Canada is now discharging 8000 barrels of the fish at Port Richmond. According to officers of the vessel, the wharves of nearly every Scandinavian port are heavily laden with barrels of mackerel. Prior to the war, much of it was sold to the countries now engaged in the tremendous struggle. Deprived of these markets, the fish will be unloaded on this country.

VEGETABLE FOOD URGED BY EXPERT AT FARMERS' SHOW

R. L. Watts, President of State College, in Opening Speech, Suggests Means of Lowering Living Cost.

Greater use of vegetables as a means of combating the high cost of living was recommended to the consumers of the United States by President R. L. Watts, of State College, and president of the Vegetable Growers' Association of America, in his annual address at the opening of its seventh annual convention in Horticultural Hall today. Co-operation was the other keynote struck at the very opening of the meeting.

"As the cost of food products, meats especially, becomes higher and higher, vegetables will play a larger part in the feeding of our millions," said Mr. Watts. "The history of every civilized nation is that, as the population becomes denser, meat products increase in price and vegetables are used more largely. This is an advantage in some respects because it has always been conceded that a vegetable diet is more wholesome than one composed largely of meat. If a large list of vegetables are available for the table, it is possible to serve dishes which will meet all the needs of the body and at the same time maintain the very best health."

"By the statement, 'do not mean to advocate the exclusion of meat from the diet, because I believe that every family should use at least some meat, but I do mean to say that the consumers of the large list of vegetables which may be grown in this country, it is possible to establish a nourishing diet without very much more expensively than milk constitutes a large part of it."

"Very few persons realize the great value of our leguminous vegetables, which are rapidly grown in every part of the country. If peas and beans were used more largely in the diet of the winter months, the cost of living would be materially reduced. The consumers of this country should be educated to the greater and proper use of vegetables."

"An appeal for greater co-operation between the producer and consumer was made by Mr. Watts, Director Porter, who represented the Mayor in welcoming the delegates to the city. He urged Mayor Selby, chairman of the committee on arrangements of the convention.

"If there is any business in need of co-operation and to work along with the grocers of America should get together for mutual protection through legislation and should apply themselves to a careful study of their problems not as individual units, but as an organization. We want you to go back to your respective communities and to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

"There is much confusion on the whole question of marketing," said Mr. Watts. "So much so that in every part of the country, bringing the producer and the consumer closer together, that some people believe it is possible to entirely eliminate the middleman. It is possible to get to work along co-operation lines. Co-operate together in solving the problems of your particular localities, at the same time remembering that your interests are in the national association."

WILLA WILSON ARMED GUARD ON HAND FOR PEACE PARLEY

Arrives at Aguascalientes Surrounded by Trusted Retainers—Martial Scene in Mexican Town.

AGUASCALIENTES, State of Aguascalientes, Mex., Oct. 5.—Although this city is to be the scene of the peace conference between representatives of First Chief Venustiano Carranza, of the Constitutionalists, and General Francisco Villa, by which it is hoped to restore domestic tranquility to Mexico, it is rapidly filling up with troops.

Trains arriving from the north and south brought Constitutionalists generally and troops of Villa, but the presence of troops was evidently a precautionary measure on the part of the commander of the division of the North, who is even on his guard against surprise.

Evidence that General Villa fears for his life was seen in the elaborate precautions taken for his personal safety. The famous rebel leader, who has been self surrounded by trusted officers, all armed to the teeth.

The opening conference probably will take place tomorrow, though it probably has been arranged that the Aguascalientes meeting would not begin until the 10th of the month. The session will likely be held in the Governor's palace. Villa's speech will probably mention flowers that had been presented to him on his birthday, Sunday, in Torreon.

The opening conference probably will take place tomorrow, though it probably has been arranged that the Aguascalientes meeting would not begin until the 10th of the month. The session will likely be held in the Governor's palace. Villa's speech will probably mention flowers that had been presented to him on his birthday, Sunday, in Torreon.

MEXICO CITY FEARS BLOODSHED IS NOT ENDED

Surface Indications Are Regarded as Unfavorable to Compromise.